	in the best interest of the government. This action is taken as a result of protests which challenged the best value strategy used in the evaluation of awards that utilized the same evaluation/award methodology. Consequently, it was determined that cancellation of any solicitations which had used the same approach would be more prudent then proceeding with a questionable or flawed evaluation/award process. This will allow the government to re-evaluate its procurement method prior to releasing a new solicitation. We thank those firms that participated for their interest in this important solicitation and encourage them and all firms to participate upon its reissue.
